I GIVE

I give to the mind
Each uncovered find

I give to the heart
An awakening start

I give to the soul
That which is whole

I give all that is I
Until the day I die!

Stacey @ Create A Balance

I am light.

My purpose is to let my light shine,

To shine light
on others,

And to give people permission

To do the same

LIFE STATEMENT

I will go through this life only once,
and I shall have but one chance to live;

Not all people will like me, others may even despise me, as I may not be easily understood;

Yet I will take this chance to live,
and I will reach out in ways I know;

I will love those whom I can,
and I will strive to understand them more;

Not all days will bring me sunshine,
so I will rejoice also for the rain;

Not every endeavor will be a success,
but I will savor the victories I achieve;

Not all dreams I dream will be mine,
but in time new dreams will fill my heart, and as from a star those hopes will propel me forward doing everything the best way I know I can;

No fear shall trample me whatsoever,
though some tasks seem to outweigh my strength;

I will only do what I have to do,
and God will take care of the rest!

I am a unique spiritual being, living in the power of love with unlimited potential and unlimited possibilities.

I live to bless you, love you and wish you well with my thoughts, words and actions.

I believe when you and I connect with open hearts and good intentions our world becomes a better place.

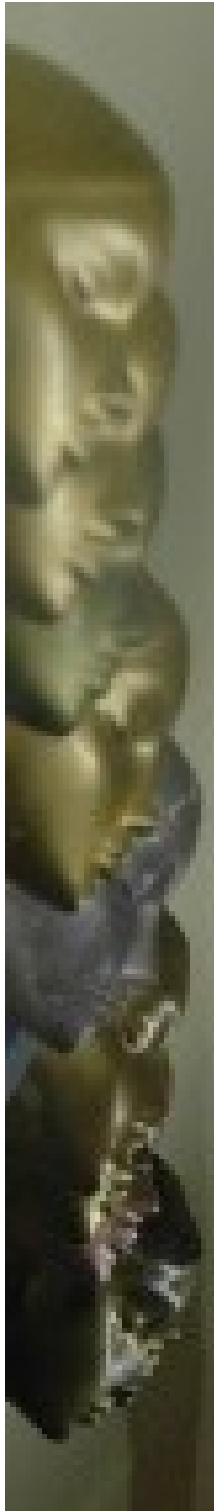

I believe in our beauty, power, and greatness and I have faith in our ability to solve problems and make our world a better place.

I accept our differences and believe we are more alike than unlike, we are one.

I am kind, loving, compassionate and understanding and offer these gifts to lift up myself and others.

I forgive myself and I forgive you. Together we live in a peaceful world.

I wear many hats and I am more than I appear.

I am loving and kind and welcoming of all.

I am content with what I have and I'm grateful for it all every single day.

I continually strive to better myself and teach what I learn along the way so that others may grow and flourish as well.

I work hard everyday at creating and maintaining a warm, loving, secure and comforting home for my family in which we all can just BE without judgement.

I strive to conduct myself with compassion and remind myself that happiness and peace in every aspect of life begins with demonstrating loving kindness toward each other.

Attachment is the source of unhappiness and disappointment. Knowing this I live with the notion that "this too shall pass", good and bad.

I can achieve this all if I put my mind and heart into it and live true to who I am. I am not perfect nor do I pretend to be, but I am me.

I am a co-Creator of the Universe. My abundance is a reflection of my inner space. All the physical magnificence I experience is an experience of what goes on inside. I am an artist with a soul. I am aware.

With love that fills me up and insight from awareness, I bring beauty to the world. I draw, paint and carve every laughter, joy and peace. I find inspired meaning in all-of-creation. There is brilliance in everything that I see, hear, touch or feel.

I am connected in Oneness, with my relationships to the world. Love fills me from my home and my relationships with others. I am well nourished with warmth, joy and kindness. My soul grows in tandem with the lessons that each relationship brings.

Movement gives Life but Silence is my grounding. In the space between thoughts, insight arises. I ask for Divine Guidance for every affirming action that I take.

Knowing who I really am allows me to express my natural gifts, abilities and talents beautifully. My divine creations capture the Essence of Life. They highlight the evolvment of my soul. I give freely what I hope to receive: Love, Peace, Joy, Wisdom and Compassion. I inspire hope, vision and dreams, leaving trails of light wherever I tread.

Abundance is what my soul has come to experience of Life on Earth. I am One with the Universe. I am One.

I will be kind to all beginning with myself
I will know my boundaries and ask for help
I will continue to learn and share my knowledge and creativity with all
I will learn to relax more, allow myself to have a ball
I will tell and show my family and friends how much I care
I will watch my self talk and try to remain “aware”
I will empower others to heal from within
I will move past and learn whenever I feel I have “sinned”
I will shower my friends and family with love and respect
I will pray for goodness for those who often feel neglect
I will be myself and honor my deepest part, my inner being
I will grow, meditate and celebrate the wondrous joy of living
I will live my life’s purpose bringing healing to many
I will learn to receive and have abundance a ‘plenty
I will embrace that I am part of something much larger than me
I will pray for goodness for all, celebrating our connectivity
I will accept what I can’t change and “go with the flow”
I will meditate on what I need to “let go”
I will encourage others to be all they can be
I will be grateful for everything as it is, including me.
I will not judge others and will always be kind
I will develop and celebrate my intellectual and creative mind.
I will not hold grudges but will forgive myself and all others
I will love and cherish all of my “sister and brothers”
I will treat my physical body which houses my inner self with care
I will grow fruits, veggies and flowers and honor nature everywhere
Above all I will nurture, love and honor myself and others right now
I will be in the state of EXPECTING MIRACLES and not worrying about “how”.

I am a work in progress. I live each day conscious that where I am is a result of my past thoughts, words and deeds, and that where I'm going is being shaped right now. So I try to show kindness and respect to all whom I meet throughout my day, including myself.

After spending over three decades living within my comfort zone, I now strive to grow and stretch myself. I have sometimes let fear of other people's opinions hold me back, but more and more now I let that go and do what feels good and right for me in the moment.

I believe in my own power and responsibility in shaping how I experience every event in my life. I am grateful for all the good in my life, both people and experiences. And I am equally grateful for the lessons I learned from less savoury events in my life. (Though I hope not to repeat the painful lessons or experiences again!)

I know that those whom I judge are mirrors of myself, and I am learning the art of forgiveness and non-judgement – of myself and others.

I am mindful that my time here is not only limited but also uncertain. And so I put less things off until 'someday', and do more things now. I live the best life that I can right now, because I know that right here right now is all I really have.

I am more than I appear to be. All the world's strength and power rests inside me. I am master of my fate and captain of my soul.

My purpose is to grow; to be a better person today than I was a week ago. I make the world a better place by first being better myself, then sharing what I know with others simply and humbly.

I am enveloped in my family's love. Their support frees me to be everything I can and want to be. I in turn provide for and protect the people I love most in the world.

All things are one. There is a part of me in each person; there is no 'other'. Every person owns a beautiful story; I learn best by listening, not judging. By learning about another, I learn about myself.

The people I love do not belong to me; they have every right to think, speak and act as they wish. Things don't always work out the way I want; I can grumble, or I can grow.

I live each day as if it were my last. I think deeply, speak gently, love much, laugh a lot, work hard, give freely, am kind. I am happy and grateful that I am becoming all I was born to be.

I am a spiritual being having a human experience and I understand that I am the co-creator of everything I experience in my life.

I take complete responsibility of my life and intend to live it consciously, with courage and conviction, so that I walk my talk and help someone see how glorious we all truly are.

I know that I can not die and this life is just a phase which will open doors to new phases and experiences to come, that is why, I am all for life and all for love.

I understand that at the end of it all, it's all between me and Me. The Me being the part of me which is of the Source, the Creator. So I intend to be kind and generous, to be loving and forgiving, to be open and adventurous.

I won't shatter at grief or sorrow
since they are sent to us
by divine mercy
for our own perfecting

I cremate all defeats and frustrations
which are nothing than history
resurrect as a phoenix
who rise from the ash

I carve my name in people's hearts by trying my best to make this earth a better place
by being unforgettable before I leave to the womb of the earth

I love everyone at least I try to do so because all of us are human beings and neither me nor you are perfect
so we must learn to forgive

I simply live my life whilst filling others' lives with happiness
each day is a gift to me
from the heaven...

A LIFE FULL OF GRATITUDE

Each day, live and love to your fullest,
Tend your blessings and let your worries fall away;
Learn to find wealth and happiness in the life you have,
Maintain the discipline to succeed, and the courage to fail;
Live simply and honestly, always honor your word,
And let your heart, mind and body be pure;
Give away the best of whatever you have to offer,
But keep the worst to yourself;
Bow to God's reflection in others,
And be a constant instrument of love and compassion;
Find peace, both within yourself and within the world,
Do not allow fear of pain or death to keep you from living;
Never lose sight of your hope and faith,
Let them remain your guiding light even through the darkest times;
Do not carry the weight of old debts, or past wrongs against you,
But remain graceful, lighthearted and forgiving.

I will dream and never stop dreaming...
I will give up suffering...
I will strive for love...
I will seek knowledge...
I will find happiness...
I will yield not to fear...
I will seize the day...
I will be honest when it hurts...
I will conquer what I desire to conquer...
I will nourish my soul with my dreams...
I will smell the flowers on a rainy day...
I will be purposeful in my actions...
I will reach for the grandiose...
I will know love is friendship set on fire...
I will never rest from travel...
I will roar triumphantly...
I will feed inspiration to my senses...
I will not interpret my dreams in gold and silver...
I will give genuine and sincere compliments...
I will chose love, always love...
I will laugh at myself, life and everything around me...
I will throw caution to the wind in pursuit of pleasure...
I will cherish both my friends and enemies...
I will love like I have never been hurt...
I will work like I don't need the money...
I will know that I am somebody special capable of anything...
I will dance down the street like dingedodies...
I will not be a critic, critics are useless...
I will know not Defeat, heartbreak, and surrender; those are not in my creed...
I will not understand those definitions...
I will not wait for the ship to come it, I will swim out to it...
I will listen to my heart that is capable of carrying me through anything...
I will look through the arch way of experience into the unknown...
I will know that my failures lead to the backdoor of success...
I will know mean-spirited people cannot rain on my parade...
I will know negative people cannot infect me with their thoughts...
I will chose determination, will, and above all hope as my being...
I will know weakness, pain, and hopelessness are not in my being...
I will never quit, never give up, and never surrender...
I will live this day like it will be my last...
I will remember to be grateful; and that will be enough...
I will understand victory, and nothing else!

To live each day as though it's my last,
To strive for more love, peace, and sharing,
To never grow old in my heart or my bones,
But to always be glad for all that I've had:
The good, the bad, and the WTF was that?!
